

Project: Survival Skills- Create a Center

You will be creating a center based on one communication goals at the BYU language fair website. You can find it here:

<http://frenchfair.byu.edu/activities/>

Click under each activity in the “Activity” tab arrow to read the possible dialogues. Chose one activity as your focus center. Use this dialogue and any other that you feel one would need to “survive” in a francophone country.

Your center should include:

- a simple activity/ or game that 4-6 people can complete in 10 minutes

- instructions

- vocabulary list

- any materials needed for the center

- an activity with practical use of the language, fun, and easy for beginners

- be colorful and interesting

- clear objectives written out (what will the students learn in your center)

Explore the website and read the objectives in “Learning Outcomes” under the “Activities” tab.

- the activity must practice your objectives in a way that students will achieve the objectives

Have fun! You will have one day in class to work on the center, and one week to complete it. The centers will be due and tried out in class on Friday, March 27.

Amusez-vous!
